Order Picker License Oshawa - Order preparation operation or order picking as it is more usually known is a method used within warehouse operations and comprises workers referred to as order pickers. The order picker's job is to take and collect articles in particular quantities in order to fulfill the customer's orders prior to shipment. Order picking is a basic warehousing process. The effectiveness in which this particular task is accomplished could be directly connected to the productivity of a supply chain. Thus, order picking is one of the most controlled logistic methods. Order picking falls within the category of the warehouse management system.

There are particular kinds of order picking which comprise: wave picking method, pick to box method, piece picking or picker to part method, sorting systems method and zone picking method.

The pick to box method consists of the order picker only filling the boxes with things which are from their particular station. The box then moves on to other stations to until the order is complete. In this particular technique, there is no movement of the order picker employees. In the wave picking method, the order pickers move about to be able to gather the required products for some orders. The picker to part method or piece picking is similar where the order picker or pickers move in order to collect the items needed but for one order only.

In the sorting systems method, there is no movement of the order picking personnel. Instead, the products are delivered to her or him via an automated system like for instance a conveyor system or an automatic storage. In the zone picking method, each and every order picker is assigned to one specific area. They are responsible for only realizing order picking in this specified area.
